

The Healing Place Welcomes Mitch Albom

The Healing Place staff and clients were treated to a special guest in November, well renowned author Mitch Albom whose previous books "for one more day" "Tuesdays with Morrie", "5 people you would meet in heaven" spoke to the audience about his latest project

"Have a little Faith" which is based on a personal journey between two worlds, two men, two faiths and two communities, but his message to us was the transition of a homeless person and how having faith helped him overcome his challenges to rebuild his life. Mitch commended the men and women for their dedication towards working on their recovery and was humbled by their commitment to overcome the obstacles they are faced with regarding their addictions. We are very thankful to Hospice of Wake County, The Fletcher Foundation and Dr. Robert and Carol Bilbro for making this event possible.
